Ecclesiastics 01:09 The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be;
and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.
