

A close-up photograph of a single, vibrant red rose. The petals are tightly curled, showing the classic spiral pattern of a rose. The color is a deep, rich red. Overlaid on the rose is white text in a serif font. The text is centered and reads: "2nd Corinthians 12:20 For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults:". The text is arranged in ten lines, with the first line being the longest and the last line being the shortest.

2nd Corinthians 12:20 For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes,
backbitings, whisperings,
swellings, tumults:
